What should I do if I receive a damaged Wall Art Print, or Product?

Prints and Products are produced by Printify, a Print on Demand service, which means that all products are unique and produced only once ordered. This also means that returns and exchanges are not supported if a customer ordered the wrong size, color, or simply changed their mind.

<https://help.printify.com/hc/en-us/articles/4483630299025-How-does-Printify-handle-refunds-and-returns->

However, in case of a damaged product or a manufacturing error, Printify offers a free replacement or a refund if contacted within 30 days of product delivery. Twin Flame Art will receive your email with pictures and information and start a claim with Printify on your behalf.

Why the refunds will not be 100% refunded?

Original Paintings, Wall art prints, and products, are subject to non-refundable transaction fees when your order has been submitted and processed. These applied “transaction fees” are part of our cost of doing business online. They are non-refundable to us at the moment the order is submitted and processed. To be clear, we are responsible for paying a 2.9% + $.30 for each transaction. As a result of these “transaction fees” being applied, they become a non-refundable “transaction Fee” when you decide to cancel your order, or request a refund.
